▶ Started at Kimball Electronics in 2008

- Angela calls Jasper, Indiana home and can often be found spending her time with her family, cooking new and enjoying the outdoors.
- Angela is most proud of the work life balance that Kimball Electronics provides. "I have been able to grow as an employee without sacrificing my family time." Some of the most memorable office traditions revolve around the holidays. One of her favorites is the Kids Christmas party. The Kids Christmas party is a holiday celebration that welcomes each employees family to celebrate together.
- The company culture at Kimball Electronics centers on family, Angela is proud of how the Kimball family is always stepping up in any way possible to help with challenges outside of the workplace. Angela has experienced the support of the Kimball family herself and says the instant support mentality goes across all of Kimball Electronics.
