

Jay Matthews

Quality Manager

▶ Started at Kimball Electronics in 2016

- Jay lives in Elberfeld, Indiana. His free time is spent with his family, traveling, and training or racing for triathlons.
- Jay came to work for Kimball Electronics Jasper because of the team and culture. "We are a multinational company that still has a small company feel." Jay's favorite memory with the company is the milestone celebrations. Any time an employee reaches a milestone anniversary they are rewarded with a celebration and they get an opportunity to share some of their thoughts and memories on how the company has grown.
- The thing that Jay likes most about working at Kimball Electronics is "Our work is very relevant to the world and we are creating quality for life for our customers." "Our commitment to doing the right thing is in the forefront of all our decisions and that makes Kimball Electronics a great place to work."
