▣ Started at Kimball Electronics in 2019

- Sonal lives in Odessa, Florida. She loves to spend her free time with family and friends, going for walks outside, and cooking.
- A memory that stands out to Sonal during her time at Kimball Electronics is when she attended a "Passport to the World" festival hosted by Kimball Tampa. This event included booths set up for different countries that showcased the music, food, and drinks unique to each of their cultures.
- Sonal is proud to be a member of the Kimball Electronics family because she likes contributing to the creation of circuits for medical devices that help treat and save many lives. She enjoys the diversity of the company culture and appreciates that leaders are always open to suggestions and willing to work with employee needs.
