

Christian Urquhart

FDA Quality Engineer
KETA

▣ Started at Kimball Electronics in 2022

- Christian is a resident of South Tampa, Florida. In his free time, Christian enjoys spending time with his wife and dog, playing kickball, golfing, and trivia. He also likes to explore new restaurants around the Tampa area.
- Christian chose Kimball Electronics because he values the culture he experienced from the start. He enjoys that regardless of position or rank in the company, everyone is very approachable. He stated that his favorite part about working with his team is that “everyone puts their best foot forward to get the job done. Even when things go wrong, there’s no finger pointing, just a plan to execute and get back on track.”
- As a FDA Quality Engineer at Kimball Electronics, Christian is most proud to have achieved leading customer audits and an FDA audit with no major findings and minimal minor findings. In his position he enjoys identifying and correcting any issues on the production floor, making the job of the production operators more efficient on a daily basis. He is glad that his work contributes to making products that increase people’s quality of life.
